Report of the Superintending School Committees.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

The Higher Department in this district is composed of scholars who have passed a satisfactory examination in reading and spelling; obtained a good knowledge of geography, mastered mental and the fundamental rules in written arithmetic and the elementary principles of grammar. Your efficient Prudential Committee, Mr. E. R. Burt, made it a point to employ none as teachers, but the "tried and true."

Miss Laura A. Riddle, a graduate of the State Normal School at Framingham, Mass., and for some time a successful teacher in Gardner, in the same state, was put in charge of this department. All was accomplished that could reasonably be expected under the circumstances. There is a lack of earnestness in this school that interferes with any exertions for high attainments. The want of the habit of studiousness, quietness and order, on the part of some of the larger pupils, is disastrous to a good school, whatever may be the result to them personally. A few were expelled, but from the considerations of confessions and fair promises, they were permitted to return.

This we are sorry to say; we wish better things could be truthfully said. There is, however, a large number, mostly among the younger members, that are to be commended for the qualities so deficient in the others. The teacher proved herself capable, and labored much harder than would have been necessary for eminent success, if she had received the hearty co-operation of all concerned.

The Primary Department was under the care of its former well tried instructor, Miss Mary E. Bosworth. This is one of the best managed schools of the kind within our knowledge. For eleven terms Miss Bosworth has had the care of this school with increasing acceptance. It needs only to be visited to be appreciated. The instruction is the best, thorough and pleasant, and the discipline approaches perfection. For the interests of the children in this village we could wish that this teacher might always be young, and never wish to change her employment or place.

A. HEALD, For Summer and Fall Terms.

Having been appointed to the office rendered vacant by the removal of Rev. Mr. Heald from the town, it only remains for me to report concerning the Winter Term of the schools in District No. 1.

Mr. George Wm. Saunderson, of Nashua, and a member of the senior class in Dartmouth College, was employed to teach the Grammar School for the term of ten weeks.

Mr. Saunderson is an excellent scholar and well qualified by his intellectual abilities to teach. Coming as a stranger to the school and without experience as a teacher, he labored under disadvantages which could not be wholly overcome. It is evident that the lack of discipline and order in this school is in no small degree the result of neglect or indifference on the part of parents and guardians. A radical reformation is needed, and to become effectual parents must be willing to be convinced that school children, like the rest of the human family, have faults and imperfections. See Luke 6:42.

The Primary School was again under the charge of Miss Mary E. Bosworth. It was a complete success, and if it were possible, added to the well deserved laurels of the teacher. It is a model school, governed by the model law of love.

J. R. BARTLETT.

REPORT OF THE TOWN SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

Prudential Committee, Edmund Huntress.

This district has had three terms of school during the year; each taught by Miss Mary C. Conor, of this town. The first term of 12 weeks, there were 37 scholars, with an average attendance of 30. Second term, 9 weeks. Number of scholars, 34. Average attendance, 29. Third term, 9 weeks. Number of scholars, 31. Average 26. Miss Conor made the following remark in her register:—"Hold a tight rein, practically applied, is essential if a teacher would succeed in district No. 2." This she did, proving that she is not only a good disciplinarian, but a thorough and efficient teacher. The district seems fortunate enough to know the fact and profit thereby. This is one of the largest schools in town, and the teachers are few who can keep one so mixed as this has been, yet meet with such good success. The classes in Reading, Arithmetic and Geography, were especially deserving of commendation.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

Prudential Committee, J. H. Coggin.

Miss Mary E. Twiss, of this place, taught the first and second terms of 8 weeks each. Number of scholars each term, 12. Average attendance, 10 and 11. This was Miss T.'s first attempt, but possessing a love for teaching, she made success certain from the very first.

Third term, Miss Isadore Richardson, of Milford, labored hard for the good of her pupils. She has had a larger experience than most teachers in our public schools. Many of her methods of instruction are superior, and I consider the school successful and prosperous in all respects. She had 12 scholars. Average 10.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

Prudential Committee, D. W. Trow.

This district has had  $23 \frac{1}{2}$  weeks school this year, taught by Miss Addie M. Swallow, of Nashua. 13 scholars first term. Average attendance, 12. Second term, average 11. Miss Swallow is a great teacher. It is a good thing for the district, though not the best for the world, that one of Miss S.'s efficiency should spend her time in so small a school. She ought to have a broader field of labor, in order that the aggregate of good in the earth be augmented thereby.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

Prudential Committee, B. R. Cume.

There has been two terms of school in this district this year. The first, a Summer term of 10 weeks; the second, a Fall or Winter term of 12 weeks, both taught by Miss Bessie P. Fuller. Number of pupils first term, 17; second term, 16. Average first term, 13; second term, 12. Miss Fuller seems quite at home in the school room. If she could have convinced the scholars that more attention to books during school hours and less gazing out of the window, was for their good, it would have been much better.

DISTRICT NO. 6.

Prudential Committee, John H. Upham.

Miss Julia F. Roberts taught the first term of 8 weeks. Whole number of pupils, 20. Average 18. She kept good order and the scholars learned well. Second term, the same teacher was retained. No register has been returned at the date of this, March 1, but I hope the patrons are satisfied. It certainly would be most ungrateful not to be satisfied.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

Prudential Committee, Messrs. Chas. Prince and Chas. Davis.

Miss Carrie L. Norton, of Greenland, taught the Summer and Winter terms during the year. The first was 10 weeks in length. Number of scholars, 25. Average attendance, 22. Second term was 12 weeks in length; 21 scholars, the average attendance being 18. Miss Norton kept an excellent school. The boys and girls having been taught dutiful submission to wholesome rules at home, came prepared to assist in maintaining the best of order. The History class did credit to their teacher. There were less cases of tardiness than any other school of the size in town.

DISTRICT NO. 8.

Prudential Committee, J. L. Coffin.

Miss Nellie M. Eaton, of this place taught the first term. It was so short the scholars could not make a very great advancement; yet it was altogether successful; satisfactory to the committee and we believe, to the district. Number of scholars, 16. Average, 14. Miss Addie F. Noyes, of this town taught the second term. It was only one week longer than the Summer term; yet if scholars are so disposed, many useful things can be learned in one week. The school numbered 20, with an average of 18. Miss Noyes has had some experience in this direction before, and being conscious of her duty, her labors were crowned with success.

DISTRICT NO. 9.

Prudential Committee, T. M. Harvell.

Miss Lizzie M. Parker, of this town, taught the first and second terms. Number of scholars first term, 10. Average attendance, 9. Number second term, 11. Average, 8. Miss Parker is young in experience, but she will make one of our best teachers. The map-drawing by young ladies 13 years of age, was finely executed. The order was good.

The Winter Term was taught by Mr. Edward J. Upton, of Amherst. Length of school, 14 weeks. Number of scholars, 17. Average attendance, 15. Mr. Upton is an energetic, self-reliant teacher. His school was successful in all respects. The confidence and respect existing so essentially between scholars and teacher, furnished abundant proof of the many excellent results of the term.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

Prudential Committee, F. W. Holbrook.

Miss M. Jennie Harvell taught the first term of 9 weeks. This was her first effort, but she entered upon her duties with an honest purpose to do her best. Whole number of pupils, 13. Average attendance, 12.

The Winter Term was taught by Mr. George E. Holbrook. No. of scholars, 12. Average attendance, 11. Length in weeks, 12. This was Mr. Holbrook's first school. The order was good and the improvement all that could be expected. The closing examination was honored by the presence of a large number of the parents, who were pleased with the progress and appearance of the school.
